

An LA Brunch Must: 208 Rodeo

March 10, 2017

FOOD

208 Rodeo lies at the top of the Spanish Steps on Rodeo Drive, one of the most iconic emblems of the Beverly Hills neighborhood and Los Angeles as a whole. With views of palm trees and pedestrians, the restaurant is the perfect place to grab brunch on a Sunday morning, and that's just what we did. With a new and improved breakfast menu to test, we were treated to fresh and local ingredients, and a warm and welcoming ambience on the unusually rainy LA morning. A clean modernist look paired with standout service makes for an even better meal. Food standouts included the Crab Cake Benedict, Moroccan Skillet and the 208 Rancheros. To drink, the Cafe Royal morning cocktail and blended Limonana were the perfect way to start the day.
